

Available for In-Studio Interview...

Get Comfy In Your Country And Confident In Your Vote.

With the election in full swing, new and current non-voters hold the presidential election in their hands...but literally don't know how to cast a vote. Dozens of states don't teach civics, yet it's socially taboo to admit you've never voted. As a result, millions have been incorrectly labeled as 'apathetic.'

The consensus of thousands of new and current non-voters is that they don't vote because they lack interest in a process where there is no acknowledgement of how confusing it can be for those who've not been trained in civics.

Author of 'Me, The People', Lisa Fontana AKA Citizen Cupcakes believes that if 1 American didn't vote, maybe that person failed "us", but if 90 MILLION didn't vote, maybe "we" failed "them". It's time to change that. So let's throw a Welcome Party!

Invite her on to your show to joyously walk your audience through:

- 1) How to register to vote or confirm your registration is valid.
- 2) How to throw a 'party free' Welcome Party for friends and family.
- 3) How and why to be a welcoming ambassador to new and current non-voters.

Her mission: Tell new and current non-voters of every age that they are welcome and wanted in their government so they can feel comfy in their country and confident in their vote...which leads to becoming more engaged citizens and local leaders.

LISA FONTANA is an author, actor and voice-over artist who didn't cast her first vote for anything until she turned 35 years old because she didn't know how!

She quietly went about putting together the pieces for herself, then wrote a 'how to' book and created informal "Welcome Party Seminars" that give people the tools to help them decide on and then vote for the next President of the United States.

"Author Lisa Fontana Gets Thumbs Up from Congressional Office for Helping Undecided Voters With 'Me, The People' a User-Friendly Guide to Voting for Everyday Americans" -Reuters

"Keep Up the Writing" -Donna Brazile (CNN),

[How to have a political conversation, or stop one, without bloodshed] "Ooof! Now THAT is important" -Elizabeth Mathews (Fox News, Chicago)

"This is a wonderful resource for our country" -Jack Canfield,

"This is a Good Idea" -Jose Diaz (MSNBC)

"I appreciate the sentiments toward resolution" -Michael Smerconish (CNN & POTUS Radio)

CONTACT:

Lisa Fontana

Cell (708) 473-6951

MeThePeopleVote@gmail.com

MeThePeopleVote.com

Me, The People
Lisa Fontana
The tools to help you decide on and then vote for the next president of the United States of America